

CHASING DANNY BOY

and Other Stories

Edited by Mark Henry

16 NEW BRILLIANT STORIES
BY 7 WRITERS FROM IRELAND, BRITAIN, & THE US

THE HIDDEN LITERATURE OF CELTS, DRUIDS, PUNKS, & LOVERS

“Oscar Wilde is forever associated with this love that dare not speak its name. The great Irish wit might have appreciated these new pictures of Dorian Gray.”

New voices dare to break the ancient silence. Dublin. New storytellers reveal the erotic sizzle under the Irish skin. Boston. Wherever in the wide diaspora of the world the Irish are, the millions of them are in your culture, your music, and, likely, in your genes. Chicago. This dazzling collection of new stories tears down the lace curtains of sentiment and stereotype. New York. Brilliant, fresh young writers shout out the hidden homoerotic literature of Irishmen everywhere in the world: ancient romantic warriors to mythic Dublin punk/boyz. London.

Writers include: • Britain’s P-P Hartnett, “Dublin Sunday” and “Remember When We Were Queens”

• Ireland’s Michael Wynne, “Quare Man, M’Da” and “Dead Sea Fruit”

• United States’ Kelvin Beliele, “Love’s Sweet Sweet Song”

• Berlin’s Bob Condron, “Visions of Sean”

• Dublin’s Peter Paul Sweeney, “Flight”

• Ireland’s Lawrence W. Cloake, “IRA Checkpoint”

• United States’ Jack Fritscher, “Chasing Danny Boy”

• and other stories, but, of course, of a handsome priest going bad in “The Story Knife,”

16 NEW STORIES ABOUT THE OLDEST, QUEEREST LOVE IN THE WORLD

“You don’t need to be Irish—just be interested in the multiculture of sex, fun, and adventure.”

ISBN 1-890834-31-9 5.5x8.5 $14.95

Fiction, Gay Fiction, Erotica

Palm Drive Publishing

Trade Paper 220 pages

Release date: October 1999

www.PalmDrivePublishing.com

WINNER 1998 Small Press Book Awards: Eros

FINALIST 1999 Independent Publisher Book Awards: Fiction

Put this collection on the shelf with The Oxford Book of Irish Stories, Roddy Doyle's novel/movie The Commitments, Brian Friel's Dancing at Lughnasa, and Frank McCourt's Angela's Ashes"...and see what they all dare not mention!

"In June 1994 the Irish Government repealed the old laws against homosexuality that had sent Oscar Wilde to jail. Irish Culture finally owned up to the saying, "The gay gene must be Irish, because like the Irish, its everywhere."

- Britain's P-P Hartnett, "Dublin Sunday" and "Remember When We Were Queens"
- Ireland's Michael Wynne, "Quare Man, M'Da" and "Dead Sea Fruit"
 - United States' Kelvin Beliele, "Love's Sweet Sweet Song"
 - Berlin's Bob Condron, "Visions of Sean"
 - Dublin's Peter Paul Sweeney, "Flight"
 - Ireland's Lawrence W. Cloake, "IRA Checkpoint"
 - United States' Jack Fritscher, "Chasing Danny Boy"
- and other stories, but, of course, of a handsome priest going bad in "The Story Knife,"

Marketing

- Ads in Independent Publisher, Harvard Gay and Lesbian Review, Lambda Book Report, James White Review, Advocate and a diversity of Irish papers in U.S.
- direct mail to bookstores and readers
- more information at www.PalmDrivePublishing.com

Chasing Danny Boy and Other Stories

edited by Mark Hemry

Palm Drive Publishing

ISBN 1-890834-31-9 $14.95 Trade Paper
220 pages 5.5x8.5

Fiction, Gay Fiction, Erotica, Multicultural

Release date: October 1999

DISTRIBUTED TO THE TRADE BY:

LPC Group

1436 West Randolph Street, Chicago, IL 60607

800-626-4330